

“Sometimes, it takes someone who has come from some place else to realize the natural beauty among us that we often take for granted - and that is what the Kauka’s accomplished at Chinquapin. Chinquapin Plantation is as warm and welcoming, elegant and refined as Alexandra herself. The grounds are impeccably manicured and upon arrival to the Plantation, the great passion Alexandra has for the outdoors, gaming and nature is obvious, along with her genteel hospitality.

“Not only are the grounds and the land beautiful, but the staff are courteous and trained in a service manner not commonly encountered in the United States. The Plantation is professionally managed in a way that optimizes its natural beauty and maximizes its wildlife potential.

“My hunting and guest experience at Chinquapin is like no other that I’ve experienced. Chinquapin is set apart in a class all its own, and I am proud it is nestled in Georgia!”

– Sonny Perdue
Governor of Georgia